LITTLE ENDEAVORERS

Ohildren to Take an Interesting Part in the Great Convention.

With Songs and Marching Tiny Lad and Lassies Will Enliven

the Exercises.

Children are to have a part in the great Christian Endeavor convention, which is now only a little more than a week in the future, and they are hard at work preparing the exercises which will be given Saturday morning of convention week in one of the tents, when the junior rally is held. Such rallies of real young Christian Endeavorers have become a feature of conventions. Addresses by men prominent in junior work on subjects of interest to children are made; the children themselves take part. This year music will be furnished by an orchestra of 50 and a chorus of 500 beys and girls. An exercise for junior Christian Endeav-An exercise for junior Christian Endeavor societies has been prepared by Mrs. James L. Hill, a prominent worker for children, and the juniors of Washington have been for months preparing their part. The committee in charge of the drill consists of the following: Mrs. M. Ross Fishburn, Rev. E. B. Bagby, Miss Adelia Randolph, Miss Mariette Little, Miss Tilla Wilson, Miss Vena Wells, Mrs. W. H. Pennell, Mrs. J. H. Jennings, J. B. Sleman, Miss Nellie McCabe, Miss Estelle Foster and J. F. Cockerille. For six weeks rehearsals of those taking part in the flag hearsals of those taking part in the flag drill, which is a portion of the exercises, have been held each Saturday afternoon in the National Rifles' armory, under the di-rection of Miss Adelia Randolph. The chorus and orchestra have also been re-hearsing weekly under the leadership of Percy S. Foster and Miss Mattie Bartlett.

Description of the Exercises. The exercise is entitled "The Juniors Love of Country," and consists of flag marches, patriotic songs, recitations, choruses, etc. It opens with a march by fortyeight girls in costume, representing the states and territories and the District of Columbia, each carrying two flags about eighteen inches long crossed in front of her. Saint Christian Endeavor, carrying a large Christian Endeavor banner, leads the procession, and stepping to the right-hand corner of the platform, with profile toward the audience, reviews the march After executing a number of pretty movements the girls form two semi-circles around the central figure of Saint Christian Endeavor, and, holding their flags as high as they can, continue in this position for a few minutes, singing "The Star Span-gled Banner." The full chorus of juniors, remaining seated, joins in the refrain after the last verse.

The names of those who have been selected to take part in this portion of the exercises follow: Flossie Szegedy, Naomi Bows, Mabel Hazard, Alice Randolph. Laura Williams, Julia Somerville, Lydia Hughes, Maud McPherson, Louise Gove, Corinne Gove, Marie Thomas, Annie McDonald, Maud Wall, Katie Smith, Mabel Gill, Gertrude Burch, Annie Tyler, Reina Willner, Blanche Thorne, Mabel Garner, Sarah Morrison, Julia Chapman, Irene Bane, Sarah Reed, Mercy Adkins, Rosa Lerch, Sophie Finckel, Grace Houchen, Elsie Moore, Susie Quander, Bessie Carter, Lillie Carter, Susie Crown, Laura Sum-mers, Mamie Chase, Ruth Bielaski, Zella Clifford, Virginia Bohrer, Eva Burns, Edith Le Duc, Bessie Guy, Estelle Bond, Eunice Rau, Bessie Butler, Gertrude Ryan, Hattie Bradley, Etta Grimes, Clare Ingalls.

Different Nations Represented. A brief introduction to the main exercises s followed by a recitation on Bible patriotism and another on the homes of the people, after which a second flag march is executed. After the complex figures have been gone through with, the marchers arrange themselves in a solid phalanx on the right side of the platform. On the opposite side the juniors, representing the different Lations, take their places. St. Christian Endeavorer takes her stand between the two groups. The juniors of the queen's countries—England, Canada, Ireland, Scotland. Wales, Australia and India-stand in the foreground and sing "God Save the Queen," responsively, verse by verse, with "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," sung by the marchers. After the responsive song, the music of the march is resumed and the marchers leave their position in regular order by twos. Turning directly to the left, they go to the center and front of the platform, where they march beneath the English and American flags, which, being crossed, are held thus for them to pass under They then return to their seats.

Interesting Features. Next follows recitations, showing the love of country and home inherent in the people of all lands. The recitations are spoken by juniors representing England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Canada, Australia, India. Japan, Turkey, France, Africa, Brazil, Mexico, Persia, China and the Islands of the

Throughout the exercise choruses and songs are introduced, some of them teaching lessons of temperance. Finally, the Junior Christian Endeavorer pledge is chanted by the juniors and chorus, and in conclusion the juniors and audience join in the final chorus, "Christ for the World." Mrs. Hill, the author of the exercise, ar-rived in the city last week and has witnessed and assisted in the drilling of the juniors of the District who are to take part in the program. She is very much gratified with the result, and the juniors themselves are eager for the time to come when they can take their part in the great Christian Endeavor convention.

Riding the Roads. About one hundred riders, a large percent age of whom were ladies, participated in the early morning bicycle run to Soldiers' Home this morning. The route was over one of those planned for convention week, and the ride was thoroughly enjoyed. After passing through the grounds of the Home, the Shepard road to Brightwood was followed, returning by way of 14th street. Wednesday morning the next run will be taken. Only riders who are confident that they can make Cabin John Bridge and re-turn in two hours should undertake the trip, for this run is planned specially for experienced riders. The distance from the White House and return is calculated at twenty miles, and the running time will be a little over ten miles an hour. The road is good however, and this distance ought to be easily made in the allotted time by good riders. First Public Rehearsal of the Chorns Tonight the first of the public rehearsals by sections of the Christian Endeavor chorus will be given in Central Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. The three leaders selected as principal directors of music during the convention are expected to be present and assist in the concert. They are Percy S. Foster, P. P. Bilhorn and E. O. Excell. Section A furnishes the talent for tonight's musical treat. Convention songs and anthems will be sung.

An extra rehearsal of section B will also take place this evening at 7 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church, under the direc-tion of Mr. Bilhorn. The rehearsal will be concluded in good season to allow any who vish to attend section A's public rehearsal. Erecting the Tents.

Tomorrow, if everything goes as expected, the three mammoth tents, in which the principal meetings of the Christian Endeavor convention will be held, will be erected on the White Lot. Workmen have been engaged all day today putting up electric light poles, and the canvas for the tents is rolled up in the center of the large ellipse just south of the President's house ready to be stretched over the tent poles. ready to be stretched over the tent poles, which, it is expected, will be erected this evening. A ninety-foot flag staff has been placed in the center of the lot and ten electric light poles put in position.

Chairman W. A. H. Church of the hall committee and Contractor Martin of Boston went over the ground early this morning, and planned out the tent scheme and located the positions for the electric lights. Mr. Church expects that the stringing of the wires and placing of the lamps will be at once begun. He hopes that tomorrow evening will see the tents pitched and strongly braced and guyed. A force of decorators will then be placed at work, stringing bunting and festooning streamer and arranging flags with which the interior will be beautified. Chairman Church stated this afternoon that the benches for the tents had all been made and that carpenters were now engaged in preparing to build the platforms. Just as soon as the tents are up, the benches will be placed in position in accordance with the plan heretofore outlined in The Star, and the building of the platforms will be at once begun. With carpenters, riggers, decorators and others at work the White Lot and the three tents will be the scene of busy activity during the next week.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN

Completion of the Cable Road to the Bridge.

Arrest of a Man Who Wanted to Tuke

a Bath-Other Matters of Interest.

The Aqueduct bridge extension of the cable of the Capitol Traction Company was laid Saturday night, the work being witnessed by a number of people. Though the tracks for the entire distance have not all been laid, the cable was drawn through. About 9 o'clock in the evening the work commenced, and it required the best part, of the night to draw the rope through the conduits of both tracks. The extension rope is little less than a mile in length. In order to facilitate the work, the Washington and Georgetown cable was exposed to view, and also the large end wheel upon which the cable turns from one conduit to the other, which is located midway in M street, between 32d street and Potomac avenue. Last evening, after the cars stopped, the extension rope was spliced to the main cable, a number of men being employed in the operation, and this morning the cable runs as far as the Aqueduct bridge. It is contemplated having the cars run to the bridge by Wednesday.

He deprecated, he said, the fact that the workers in the temperance field were too apt to become divided on account of minor apt to become divided on account of minor questions, and thus fail to attain their objects when it came to the larger and more important topics, and he asserted that if all the opponents of intemperance would stand together to abolish this national evil it would not be long before every grog shop in the land was closed up.

The organization had, he said, assisted ma-terially in the founding of a National Anti-Saloon League, and had also received an addition of seventeen organizations to its own membership, making the aggregate membership seventy separate bodies. It had also, he said, partially succeeded in getting better liquor laws from Congress, and had secured other matters in the same line for the good of the community, be-sides, with the aid of others, reducing the number of saloons in the city seventy-two as compared with last year. Mr. Ewin highly complimented those policemen who have aided in the enforcement of the law. The league, said Dr. Wilson, represents the best element of society, and he urged that it be encouraged in its work by all present and by all whom they could in-
